The New Insulated Consumer Unit from Hager has:

- No restrictions on the internal configuration of devices and terminal bars.
- In addition to providing more space between them, it also requires fewer tools to fit, making choice and installation faster, easier and safer.
- Independent time trials have proved that the Hager Consumer Unit saves 15 minutes on installation time compared to other boards.
- It has an IP4X rated removable and re-sealable top wall, island style breakouts and multiple, flexible-fixing points.
- The New Consumer Unit from Hager also boasts a unique meter tail kit featuring flexible links, allowing meter tails to simply connect straight in without bending.
- The built in spirit level ensures a better installation finish.
